

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

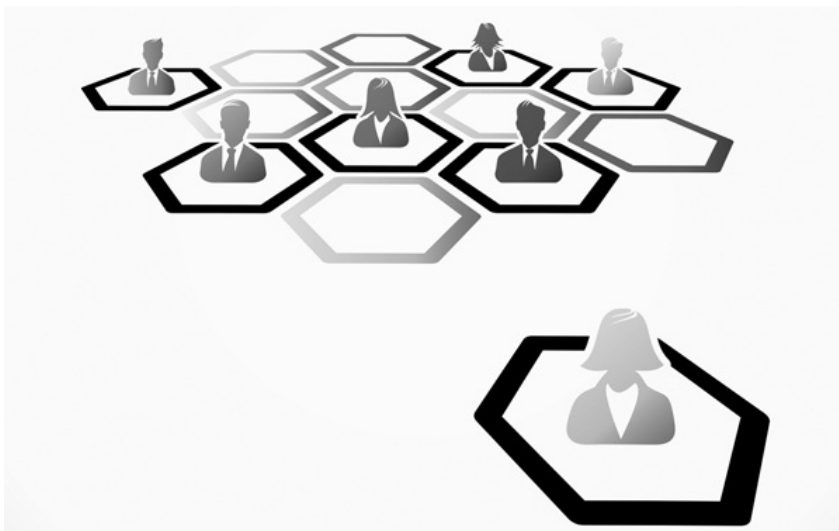

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's talk about job fairs!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe issues relating to money, in written and spoken situations according to work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Are you career oriented? Do you constantly try to improve your CV? How?
- Have you ever been to a job fair? How did you like it?

Can Do Statements

- I can discuss hopes and expectations for the future.
- I can talk about jobs, professions and careers.
- I can quote other people.

Let's Explore!

Adam and Kristi check out the career fair!

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Kristi: Hi Adam! Have you been here long?
- Adam: Not long. I got here, signed in and then went to a workshop on career guidance.
- Kristi: Do you want to walk around for a bit? We can visit a few booths.
- Adam: Sure, that's what I'm planning to do.
- Kristi: So, how did you find that résumé writing workshop?
- Adam: It was alright ... boring. My friend told me he went to one and learned a lot of tips and tricks about how to write a résumé. I was hoping to learn a few more tricks, but I learned nothing!
- Kristi: I know what you mean. There's another workshop later. I'm planning on going to that one.
- Adam: I'm done with workshops today, maybe forever.
- Kristi: Which booths have you visited?
- Adam: Meh ... I've only been to the art and culture section. I checked out a few public relations booths.
- Kristi: Cool. Anything interesting?
- Adam: There were a few copywriter positions and a market researcher position. That sounded interesting, I guess. I'm not sure I have the credentials for those positions.
- Kristi: What does that position involve?
- Adam: You have a lot of questions. According to the man at the booth, the type of work you do varies depending on your employer.
- Kristi: I was talking to someone at the workshop. She told me about a multimedia specialist posting she came across. She said they were doing on the spot interviews.
- Adam: On the spot interviews, you say? I'd like to do one of those while I'm here. I'm going to check that booth out.
- Kristi: Well, good luck with it.

Let's Practice!

Kristi tells Adam about the career fair!

Instructions: Underline all the incorrect words in the sentence. Rewrite the sentences correctly.

1. My friend tolds me he went to one and learned a lot of tips and tricks about how to write a resúmé.

2. Accorded to the man at the booth, the type of work you do varies depending on your employer.

3. She telled me about a multimedia specialist posting she came across.

4. She say they were doing on the spot interviews.

Let's Practice!

Adam learns more about jobs at the fair.

Instructions: Match the phrases from column A to the phrases on column B to complete each sentence correctly.

COLUMN A

1. I got here and then went to a workshop
2. I've only been to the
3. There were a few
3. I'm not sure I have
4. She told me about a
5. I checked out a few public

COLUMN B

- a. art and culture section.
- b. relations booths.
- c. on career guidance.
- d. multimedia specialist posting she came across.
- e. the credentials for those positions.
- f. copywriter positions.

Extension Activity

Think and plan your career.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Tell a friend about your career now or a career you want in the future.
- Write out a five year plan for your hopes and expectations for the future of your career. (200 words)
- Read your plan to your friend.
- Ask your friend about their five year plan for the future.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I talk about my future career.

☐ ☐

I write about hopes and expectations for your career.

☐ ☐

I read my plan about hopes and dreams aloud.

☐ ☐

I ask my friend about his/her future career.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- career guidance (noun): services that help people successfully manage their career development
e.g. I got here, signed in and then went to a workshop on career guidance.
- art and culture (noun): an area or section that you turn to when you want to expand your mind and horizons e.g. I've only been to the art and culture section.
- copywriter (noun): a job in which you write the words for advertisements
e.g. There were a few copywriter positions.
- market researcher (noun): a job in which you collect information about what products people like to buy or what people like or dislike about a product e.g. There's a market researcher position.
- have the credentials for (expression): to possess qualities, achievements or experiences that make you suitable for something e.g. I'm not sure I have the credentials for those positions.
- multimedia specialist (noun): a person whose jobs involves using video, sound and other methods of communication in computers
e.g. She told me about a multimedia specialist posting she came across.

Learning Points

Talking About Hopes And Expectations For The Future

Apart from using the Future tense to talk about the future, there are other verbs and patterns you can use to express hope and expectations for the future.

a. Hope + to + verb

"Hope" suggests that you want or expect something to be true in the future.

- I was hoping to learn a few more tricks.
- I hope to get an interview soon.

b. (be) + plan (-ing) + to + verb / (be) + plan (-ing) + on + -ing

"plan" indicates that you think carefully about actions that you need to take in order to achieve something.

- I'm planning on going to that one too.
- That's what I'm planning to do.
- I'm planning to go for a walk soon.

c. be going to + verb

Use this structure to express the idea that you intend to do something in the future.

- I'm going to check that booth out.
- I'm going to look for a job here.

d. would like + to + verb

This structure can also be used to express the idea that you plan on doing something in the future.

- I'd like to do of those while I'm here.
- I'd like to start looking for a job while I'm here.

Learning Points

Reported Speech

You use reported speech when you are saying (reporting) what other people said.

When you tell people what someone has said in the past, you generally make the verb tense 'more in the past'. You need to change the verb to the next past form.

For example:

Direct speech

- I came across a multimedia specialist post.

Reported speech

- She told me she had come across a multimedia specialist post.

When changing sentences from direct speech, check if you have to change the following:

- pronouns (I said → He said)
- Present tense verbs
- Place and time expressions
- Tenses (backshift → change to the past)

Some reporting verbs and expressions commonly used are: say, tell, and according to.

Examples:

- My friend told me he went to one and learned a lot of tips and tricks about how to write a résumé.
- According to the man at the booth, the type of work you do varies depending on your employer.
- She said they were doing on the spot interviews.

